National Palace Museum

The National Palace Museum houses the world's largest collection of priceless Chinese art treasures, one which spans China's nearly 5,000-year history. Most of the museum's 620,000 art objects were part of the Chinese imperial collection, which began over 1,000 years ago in the early Sung dynasty.

Sun Yat-sen Memorial Hall

An example of Chinese palace architecture, the Sun Yat-sen Memorial Hall was built in 1972. Able to hold 3,000 people, this Memorial Hall is often used for concerts, dances, and dramatic performances. The surrounding park is adorned with beds of flowers that change with the seasons. The only large green area in eastern Taipei, the S.Y.S. Memorial Hall has become a popular spot for leisure recreation. Area residents often come here for morning exercise and youngsters like to roller skate or ride.

Taipei 101

Taipei 101 is the tallest building in the world, with a mass of shops on the lower floors, incorporating many top brands under the LVMH group, such as Louis Vuitton, Dior, Celine, etc. The fourth floor houses the Page One bookstore from Singapore, with the highest-roofed coffee house in Taipei and many fine restaurants.
